1. Your continuing education becomes an overall experience

Strengthen self-development through reflection competence

Self-awareness is the key to being able to use one's own resources and potential effectively. The virtual, flexible working world opens up unprecedented dimensions of leadership and synergy utilization. The inner attitude and the relationship to oneself are crucial for efficient and effective relationship management in the global communication space. The clear and centered personality creates a relationship network of trust and reliability. People are grateful for genuine encounters with content and appreciation.

Highest quality in coaching and training

The Symbolon training and further education courses impart well-founded coaching and training skills. Exciting theory and touching practice support your personal development of potential. The accompanied, differentiated and individual confrontation with works of art promotes a continuous development on the personal level and enables a direct implementation with the coachees on the professional level.

The Symbolon Method® uses associations with symbols, archetypes and images to make the invisible visible. In the training courses you will learn the symbolic language researched in psychology and cultural studies and develop a deeper understanding of symbols. A core area of the Symbolon-Method® is the translation of the symbolic content of works of art into the business context. The Symbolon reflection processes are focused on professional issues and organizational development.

The Symbolon training and further education courses expand the perception of art, symbolism, archetypes and potential development in an unexpected way. Practical applications in exchange sessions bring about deep insights, pattern change and transformative personality development. Your life will be sustainably enriched by the sensory perception refined through intensive contact with works of art. Your professional impact gains strength and solidity.

The quality of the encounter between coach and coachee is crucial for the overall development process. Accompanying members of management and executive staff in their personal development is complex and requires the coach to have sound qualifications. Strong coaches and trainers are intent on self-reflection and continuous growth. They have the courage to go beyond their own limitations, both methodically and personally. They offer their coachees competent support at the highest level for complex challenges and future topics.

2. The 3 Symbolon Courses

Training as Symbolon-Specialist and Reflection Expert

In the Symbolon training courses you learn in about one year the professional application of Symbolon potential analyses and certify yourself as a Symbolon-Specialist.

The three training modules build on each other and teach you the application of Symbolon potential analyses step by step. Each training module includes e-learning, practical units and an individual certification.

The holistic psychoanalysis according to C. G. Jung with its concepts of archetypes, symbolic language, depth psychology, association technique and type theory forms a core part of the course. In doing so, the Symbolon Profile Training teaches you the Symbolon questioning technique and the themes and images of the Symbolon Profile, which you will be able to apply after completing the individual certification. In the Symbolon Profile Intensive training, you will learn further questioning techniques and how to lead the coaching process that lasts several hours. The Symbolon Team Profile Training is dedicated to team and organizational development, based on the Symbolon Team Profiles. After the respective training modules you have the possibility to plan and go through the individual certifications at your own pace.

Individual learning pace and multidimensional development

The entire course is an inner and outer journey into the world of symbols, archetypes and primal principles. The group size of a maximum of 10 people guarantees the highest quality in individual professional competence and personality development. The participants also meet virtually between the modules as needed and individually planned for exchange.

With Symbolon e-learning, you work through selected topics and prepare for the practical units individually, at your own pace, or subsequently deepen the content. Depending on your needs, the e-learning begins about 2 months before the practical units via e-training or on-site. All participants come optimally prepared for the practical units of the e-training or on-site. The focus can be on the application and deepening of the learned contents. The e-learning area is activated after each of the practical units.

Individual support

During the course, the focus is on the three basic development topics: methodological competence, personality development and market implementation. Depending on your needs, you will receive individual support at the highest level both in the e-learning phases and in the practical units via e-training or on-site seminar days.

The developer of the Symbolon-Method® Christine Kranz and the Symbolon team are personally available for you and support you according to your needs in your market appearance, practical applications and mandate implementation.

5. Feedback from Symbolon-Specialists

DI Marcela Semper, MSConsult, Austria and Slovakia

"Whether we want to accompany people when they climb a peak or dive into the deep sea, one thing is true: we can only accompany them as far as we ourselves have gone. Symbolon activates our perception through images and symbols. We gain access to our inner values. Symbolon's approach is light, playful, efficient and appreciative. The only challenge ahead is to open ourselves to a new way of reflection, where our head plays only a translator role."

Dr. Klaus Rottenschlager, Rottenschlager Consulting + PR GmbH, Austria

"The Symbolon course is effective and very practical. If you weren't a master of self-reflection before, you can be one afterwards at the latest, and that's exactly the advantage in dealing with clients and implementing the Symbolon-Method®."

Christina Kuenzle MBA, M.S., Choice Ltd., Switzerland

"The Symbolon Profile is more suitable than any other instrument to be able to directly address very personal and hidden aspects within a very short time. The pictures open up psychological and emotional areas that the subjects themselves are often not aware of and that could also remain hidden to the coach for a long time. In the evaluation with the Symbolon Profile, the highest respect is always shown. Thus, when handled professionally, no "injuries" occur in this very delicate and extremely vulnerable sphere. The Symbolon profile is therefore very much appreciated by the vast majority of clients, and the consultation based on it is a highlight due to the depth and "colorfulness" it allows - and not just because of the beautiful pictures."

Heinz Neumayer, trainCo Trainingsinstitut GmbH, Austria

"What is particularly impressive about the Symbolon Profile is the fact of the efficiency factor. This method is constructed in such a way that one advances to personal core issues in the shortest possible time. Christine Kranz as a person impresses with a precise approach as well as competence at the highest level."

Esther Erni-Keusch, ekg coaching gmbh, Switzerland

"With Symbolon, work is done holistically. In addition to the rational processes, the emotional level is also reflected. Be it in a professional assessment, in the identification of talents, for 2nd opinions in a recruitment or development process, in a coaching - Symbolon quickly and clearly uncovers potentials and issues that often remain hidden or only become visible later. The artwork and images, as well as the effective questioning technique of the consultant, which empowers the client, provide a unique access to this. The Symbolon Method® is efficient and sustainable. There is a clear process flow, transparent communication and an action plan is developed so that the issues can be successfully implemented and reflected upon in practice."

Tanja Esmiol, Change Ahead, Germany

"The Symbolon-Method® is a highly efficient procedure: fast, direct and provides a precise result. The interesting way of working is ideally suited for me. Efficient and solution-oriented."

Attunement and preparation for the Symbolon course

Before taking part in the Symbolon Profile Training, we recommend reading the two books "Durch Selbstreflexion zum Erfolg" and "Tierisches Potenzial" written by the developer Christine Kranz. The book "Professionell coachen mit Bildmaterialien" by Jasmin Messerschmidt is also a compact introduction. The books are currently only available in German.

A helpful (but not necessary) introduction is participation in the Symbolon Reflection Training. The training introduces coaching with the Symbolon-Method® and works intensively with the books and the artworks described in them. The different reflection approaches such as questioning technique, pattern transformation, reflection depth and processes are taught and coaching experience with the port- and the animal picture is gained.

Support & Organization

We are at your disposal for further questions and to support your individual organization (e.g. in Vienna the hotel overview with the Kolping Hotel for single rooms from Euro approx. 60.- per night incl. breakfast).
